

a hidden gem

The City Hotel, London, UK

my boyfriend and I stayed here at the weekend. we thoroughly enjoyed our stay! we were upgraded on arrival, greeted by very friendly staff, given directions to anything we needed. room was lovely, with lots of extras, warm. concierge were so accomodating and friendly. free internet to plan our days activities and print any maps needed.it is very close to lots of tourist attractions, there is a tube station outside if you need to travel further afield, very good especially if you are travelling to take the train to the airport.we really enjoyed our stay here and will be recommending this to friends.
